THE THIRTY-FIRST SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

Jesus criticizes the religious leaders by saying, "They do all their deeds to be seen by others". Good deeds were only used to get the positive attention of others. That's a terrible form of slavery. It makes us dependent upon the reactions of others. There's little else in life that could be more restricting than to always have to consider other people's reactions to what we do. The one who is humble knows that they discover their relationship to the God of love; out of this loving relationship they sense their great value. Our glory is not in what we do, but in the fact that we live in God and are loved by God. That allows us to serve God in one another.
