THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Belief in the life after death is woven into the fabric of Christian faith. Christian practice, liturgy, private prayer all center on the belief that those who have preceded us in death continue to live. What we do know about our future life with God is that it is not only vastly superior to the present life, it is also vastly different. The central joy of heaven is life with God with no fear of loss. There is the further belief that we will be reunited with those who have gone before us. Eternal life is a gospel given. Each of us, however, must live our journey of faith here on earth in response to our vocation as Christians in order to insure our sharing in this great mystery of God's love. Follow Jesus Christ as the way, the truth and the life. With Paul we simply pray to be strengthened, with the firm conviction that the God who is faithful will bring us home.

Thoughts to reflect on and share: "Our words matter and should always be chosen from our hearts rather than our emotions, keeping in mind how they may be received by others. As Paul said, 'may the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God.' When our hearts are directed to God's love, our words will be uttered in love toward all our sisters and brothers." Our parish consultation sessions will be held on Monday, November 7th and Thursday, November 17th at 7pm in the Church. Following the second meeting the draft models will be available at OnMissionChurchAlive.org.

Veterans Day Observation East Catholic School: Veterans Day is a day designated to honor the men and women both living and deceased who have fought and or died for our country. The freedom we have today is hard won by these soldiers who paid the ultimate price. They are the reason we are free today. East Catholic students and staff will be thanking veterans with a Mass in their honor on Friday November 11th at 9 am in St. Maurice Church. At the Mass the students will read poems of thanks and sing songs appropriate for the celebration. After Mass as a small token of appreciation, we will invite veterans to a light reception in the school cafeteria, Keane Hall. Although we can never truly repay the veterans for the sacrifices they have made, the students and faculty work hard to try to make this a wonderful, spiritual celebration. We invite all Veterans from our respective parishes and community to join us for this beautiful Veterans Day Observation. Please call the school office at 412-351-5403 if you plan on attending both the Mass and reception by Monday, November 7th.
